

PRIVACY POLICY

This is the privacy policy for the HMS Plymouth Association website. Questions should be addressed to the Webmaster.

Any information you supply via this website will be used by HMS Plymouth Association, their agent and other authorised persons. We will never share, sell or rent your personal information under any circumstances. We will treat your data in accordance with the Data Protection Act 1998.

Email

Some pages on this website have an e-Mail function to allow you to contact members of the Association Committee. We will not use the information you provide for any other purpose.

Online Polls & Surveys

If you wish to participate in an online poll or survey, in addition to your answers, we collect your Internet Protocol (IP) address. This data will be used by ourselves and our agents to help validate the results and help prevent multiple entries from individuals. In addition to this, a cookie will be placed on your system after participating in a poll or survey. No identifiable information will be stored in this cookie.

Links

This website holds links to other sites. Please note that we are not responsible for the privacy practices or information held on other sites with all links being given in good faith. Ensure that you read their privacy statements if you are concerned about the information they are collecting about you. The privacy information on this page only applies to this website.

Log Files & Statistics

We use IP addresses, URI's of requested resources, timestamps and HTTP user-agents to analyse trends, administer the system and gather broad demographic information for aggregate use. In addition to this, we use Google Analytics, a web analytics service provided by Google, Inc ("Google"). Google Analytics uses cookies to help analyse how visitors use our site. The information generated by the cookie about the use of our website (including your IP address) will be transmitted to and stored by Google on servers in the United States. Google will use this information for the purpose of evaluating your use of our website, compiling reports on website activity and providing other services relating to website activity and Internet usage. Google may also transfer this information to third parties where required to do so by law, or where such third parties process the information on Google's behalf. Google will not associate your IP address with any other data held by Google. You may refuse the use of cookies by selecting the appropriate settings on your Web browser, however, please note that if you do this you may not be able to make full use of our website. By using this website, you consent to the processing of data about you by Google in the manner and for the purposes set out above.

Cookies

Cookies are a technology which can be used to provide you with tailored information from a website. A cookie is an element of data that a website can send to your browser, which may then store it on your system. You can set your browser to notify you when you receive a cookie, giving you the chance to decide whether to accept it.

Our site makes use of cookies. Cookies are used for the following purposes:

- Site Administration
- Site customisation
- User targeting
- Contacting users
- User Analysis
- Online polls and surveys